Selectmen's Meeting

FEBRUARY 11, 1986 - by VIRGINIA ARRAL MATTAPOISETT RIVER CLOSED TO SHELLFISHING FOR ANOTHER 30 DAYS

The Board of Selectmen last Tuesday announced a notice was received from the State Division of Marine Fisheries that the Department of Environmental Quality Engineering (DEQE) has extended the closing for another 30 days of the waters and flats and all tributaries of the Mattapoisett River north of a line drawn across the mouth of the river to the taking of shellfish for human consumption.

Selectmen Chairman John DeCosta noted there still has been no contact from homeowners who were notified of the plugged pipe that flows into the Mattapoisett River which lies between the pumping station and Arch Bridge. Selectmen said they are at a loss to understand why no homeowner has not noticed any result of the plugged pipe and reported it to the Board of Health.

In other business in the brief meeting, Selectmen:

MET WITH Victor Demski of 31 North Street, and Steven Mach, harbormaster/wharf commissioner, to discuss the wharfage of Demski's boat.

Demski, whose new 31 foot boat will not fit into his present space at the wharf, will have to wait until Mach rearranges space allocations if someone gets a smaller boat.

Demski asserted he is the one hundred percent owner of the boat tied up there now but has designated his wife and son with joint right of ownership. He agreed to obtain documentation from the Coast Guard certifying that he is the sole owner of the boat to give to the harbormaster.

On another matter, Mach informed the board that storage space at the wharf is getting to be a problem. Because Shellfish Warden Brian Nunes didn't have any space to keep his gear, Mach had been sharing his storage space with him. "This has made storage area pretty tight," Mach said. A brief discussion was held on the possibility of expanding the wharf building for added storage space.

WERE INFORMED by the Governor's Office of Federal Relations of the further reduction of federal Revenue Sharing Funds to communities for fiscal 1986.

The letter noted the U.S. Treasury's formula includes relative state per capita income and tax effort statistics. In fiscal 1985 the national average for per capita income had an increase of 9.2 percent, while Massachusetts average increase of per capita income was 15.5 percent. In addition, the national tax effort average is 12.6 percent while the Commonwealth's tax effort average is 11.8 percent (due to Proposition 2½). These figures place Massachusetts in a "less need" category, according to the U.S. Treasury Department's standards.

Under this formula Massachusetts cities and towns will face an 11.4 percent reduction. Despite efforts by those at the local and state level, the Revenue Sharing Program appears headed for elimination in fiscal 1987, the letter advises. Additionally, the letter noted that under the Gramm-Rudman Deficit Reduction Act, the

On the subject of budgets, Selectmen met with members of the Band Committee, Recreation Committee and the Dog Officer to discuss budgets for the annual town meeting.

APPOINTED Millie Sylvia, Selectmen's secretary, as parking ticket clerk, term to expire on April 30, 1986. She fills the unexpired term of retired secretary Elaine Sylvia.

300 Census Forms Still Out

ANNUAL TOWN CENSUS

There are approximately 300 census reports outstanding at this time for Mattapoisett. Those who have not returned their reports are reminded that it is very important that they be mailed or dropped off at the Town Hall as soon as possible. As Town Clerk I wish to thank all of you who have cooperated so promptly in this annual task. Annual census is a time consuming and costly project for every city and town. The cooperation of our citizens helps tremendously to reduce the expense to the Town of Mattapoisett that compliance with this law entails. Annual Census has numerous direct and indirect effects on each of us individually and to the Town of Mattapoisett as a whole. You may call my office with your report if you wish, 758-6707.

Thank you, Lois K. Ennis, CMC
Mattapoisett Town Clerk

David Found Our Auto Loan So Attractive, He Also Borrowed For Some Optional Equipment.

What makes a consumer loan from Fairhaven Savings Bank so attractive?

Some might say it's our competitive low rates.

Others rave about our speed of approval, usually no more than a day.

But the real difference is not a rate or a number, but our attitude. We want to lend you the money you need. Whether it's for a new or a used car, a boat, home improvements, equity line of credit, or your child's education, we want to lend you a hand.

So if you're thinking of a consumer loan, call us at 999-2961 or drop by any branch of Fairhaven Savings. After talking with one of our friendly loan officers, you may decide you'd like some optional equipment, too.

SANDWICH, CAPE COD - DCJ

To anyone who enjoys exploring the towns of Cape Cod, it is either the winter season or fight the traffic. There is much to recommend these towns in the winter in the bleak, spare beauty of the cold season. Last week our cover was a photo of the bridge over the Sandwich marsh leading to the dunes. To reach that point your turn left at the traffic lights on Route 6A (as your car is facing down Cape), you go past the site of the original Sandwich glass site surrounded by some old Cape homes that probably were the homes of the glass workers. As you approach the marsh the dunes of Sandwich Beach are visible in the distance and the walking bridge to reach them. Dressed for the season and the day, that is a good walk and the beach which begins at the canal and stretches to Provincetown is a great walk in any season. You are not able to proceed continually because of marsh outlets such as appear at the end of Sandwich Beach opposite the canal end; however, there are enough dunes to satisfy anyone in the winter air on Sandwich Beach.

Back to the traffic lights, if you head straight across Route 6A you head into Sandwich Center and the Old Mill Pond. This beautiful spot is well protected from a bitter winter wind and is the refuge of many water birds all year. On our cover this week are various species. The ducks with webbed feet were on the ice in a harsh wind and being blown around like feathered skaters, losing traction in spite of their feet and landing on padded rumps. When tiring of this sport, they could jump in to swim in the swifter and unfrozen water near the mill run. The Christopher Wren

DR. PEELOR SPEAKS TO YOU ABOUT HEALTH!

HOW CHIROPRACTIC HELPS PREVENT AND TREATS DISEASE

The illnesses and malfunctions caused by spinal defects are numerous and varied. Their effect may be indicated by a wide range of symptoms and signs in most any part of the body.

The human body operates as a complex, synchronized unit. Structural defects may result in functional disturbances, and functional disorders may result in structural defects.

Treatment methods utilized in modern Chiropractic care.

Chiropractic is that science and art which utilizes the inherent recuperative powers of the body and the relationship between musculo-skeletal structures and functions of the body, particularly of the spinal column and nervous system, in the restoration and maintenance of health.

The practices and procedures commonly employed by doctors of chiropractic are based on the doctor's training received in and through accredited chiropractic colleges, postgraduate courses, and professional certification programs. These include, but are not limited to, the use of accepted procedures in diagnosis and treatment. Emphasis is placed upon correcting disorders of the articulations and adjacent tissues of the body, particularly of the spinal column, and the relief of related nerve disorders.

The education of the doctor of Chiropractic.

State licensed and regulated, the chiropractic physician is a valuable member of the health care profession. A minimum of six years of college study and internship go into making a doctor of chiropractic (D.C.), more if he or she is a specialist. The areas of science studies are those pertinent to the health care of human beings, including anatomy, bacteriology, pathology, physiology, biochemistry, pediatrics, geriatrics, spinal manipulation, X-ray, nutrition, physical therapy, and many others.

The chiropractic physician is primarily concerned with the spine and how its interplay with the nervous system affects many important body functions. The chiropractor knows that a spinal disorder can cause severe pain in the immediate back area as well as interfere with the nerves of the body. While the chiropractor is especially skilled in treating structural problems associated with the neck and back and other joints, she can treat much more. Millions of Americans are chiropractic patients and can attest to chiropractic health care benefits.

Important points to remember about Chiropractic.

1. Chiropractic is a science founded on tone. It gives special emphasis to the structural integrity of the body.
2. It utilizes a method of treatment which relies on the body's natural recuperative powers.
3. It is a conservative healing art which does not utilize drugs or surgery.
4. It recognizes pain as a symptom and not the cause of a health disorder.
5. The doctor of chiropractic is a well trained member of the health team.

Chiropractic is the second largest primary health provider in the U.S. It is recognized and licensed in all 50 states and the District of Columbia

It's not too late for '85 and it's not too early for '86!

(Which makes better sense for you?)

Everyone agrees, having an IRA makes sense . . . both for its annual federal tax advantage and for the healthy, long-term retirement benefits it can provide.

For '85, if you can afford it, you can still make a lump-sum payment of up to $2000*, and deduct the full amount from your federally taxable 1985 income . . . anytime until April 15th.

However, with a much smaller amount (as little as $10) you can open a 1986 IRA now, with the intent of making additional contributions up to your $2000* maximum as quickly as you can.

There's an advantage in completing your maximum as early as possible because each contribution starts earning interest (and the total begins compounding) immediately. Ideally, if you could get a whole year ahead (pay the entire annual contribution January 2nd of the tax year rather than 15½ months later just before the tax for that year is due) you'd soon have a significant advantage. For example, assuming an annual interest rate of 10%, at the end of 20 years, the saver contributing at the start of each tax year would have an extra $8.949 . . . not a bad bonus for a little extra planning!

So if you haven't yet opened an IRA, think about it one more time. If you can possibly do it — even if you fall short of the maximum contribution — it's definitely to your advantage to put away as much as you can now, for the federal tax savings and later, for retirement! Any NBIS office will gladly give you details.

*$2,250 if you are married and your spouse earns no salary.

"live" performances by professional artists of the highest caliber to children during school hours. Their purpose is to provide, through educational and other programs, the opportunity for young people to enjoy, ex-performing arts and to learn from professional artists about the artistic process.

Their programs are created to produce active and participating listeners and to develop in children an early understanding and appreciation of the performing arts - music, theatre and dance.

Halibut can be fried, broiled, steamed, poached, sauteed, or baked with excellent results. Since Halibut has a dry texture, it should always be served with some type of sauce.

Haddock is very similar to the Codfish; the meat is slightly darker and fibrous - however, it is considered a white meat fish and has a firm flesh and excellent flavor.

All flatfish such as sole or halibut are lean fish and very popular.

Meat of the Codfish is lean and white with a flakey grain. Best to poach, steam or broil.

Old Colony Vocational High School last week by a spokesman for the Massachusetts Petroleum Council.

The presentation, which was comprised of a short talk and the showing of the movie, "Odyssey: A Quest for Energy", was conducted by Kenneth J. Hanrahan, salesman for Shell Oil Company. It outlined the energy options available to keep America's energy sound and productive by properly managing and efficiently using all of the country's energy resources including coal, oil, natural gas, nuclear power, synthetic fuels and renewable sources.

"The Arab embargo of 1973-74 gave notice of the penalty we could pay for heavy reliance on foreign oil," Hanrahan said. "We seem to have learned from those supply interruptions, and we have already taken the first steps down the long road to greater energy security."

to total energy independence, Hanrahan said, and cited two Federal policies as critical. The closing off of hundreds of millions of acres of land both onshore and offshore from oil drilling by the Federal government has prevented potentially productive reserves from being explored.

And the continuation of Federal price controls on the wellhead price of natural gas inhibits gas production just as price controls earlier inhibited oil production, he claimed. Hanrahan said he hoped Congress would decontrol gas prices in the current session.

Bedford Institution for Savings in bringing some of the most memorable stars of the Big Band Era to the Zeiterion stage in The Big Band Hit Parade. Featuring Carmen Cavallaro, June Valli, Herb Jeffries and the Gene Krupa Orchestra, The Big Band Hit Parade will recreate the sounds of history; a nation in war, a nation celebrating victory.... times and sounds that bring back memories for some and create sheer entertainment for others. Tickets are available at the Box Office by calling 994-2900 and are priced at $17.50, $15.50 and $13.50.

Carmen Cavallaro has been a major force in the music field since the forming of his own orchestra in 1940. His albums "Dancing in the Dark", recorded in 1940, and "The Eddie Duchin Story", recorded in 1956, remain favorites of Big Band fans and keep Cavallaro in the all-time-best-seller category. Known as "The Poet of the Piano", Cavallaro is as comfortable with the latest popular hits as he is with Broadway musicals, and his style in performing the great standards currently being revived demonstrates his grace and style that creates a mood in which his talents become artistry.

June Valli began her career in the early 50s and took off on the road to stardom when she won the "Arthur Godfrey Talent Show" at the age of 18. She co-starred the "Lucky Strike Hit Parade" for NBC and in 1955 she performed her million selling hit "Crying in the Chapel" on that program. Ms. Valli has performed all over the world and still works nightclubs and hotels in Las

The Gene Krupa Orchestra today carries on the legend of the world's greatest drummer, the "King of Cymbals", Gene Krupa. Born in 1909, Krupa's overpowering desire to express himself musically brought him to join Red Nichols in jiving and jamming, joining his boyhood pal Benny Goodman. He became part of the "Benny Goodman Quartet", working with pianist extraordinaire Teddy Wilson and the vibraphone virtuoso Lionel Hampton. His book "Instruction on Swing Drumming" brought him an offer to lecture at New York's Museum of Natural History. Krupa went on to form the most popular dance and recording band of the Fabulous Forties and today his music lives on with the Gene Krupa Orchestra, performing the tunes Krupa made famous, "Disc Jockey Jump", "Drum Boogie", "Let Me Off Uptown" and his theme song, "Starburst".

ing David Loeffler Smith said recently, "Paul Georges is probably one of the strongest, clearest spokespersons for the re-emergence of figurative painting in the Fifties and Sixties. He has the credentials of having studied under both Hans Hofmann in New York City and later with Fernand Leger in Paris. As a spokesperson for the Figurative Movement, he has been on the firing line having been both the cause of significant debate and the target of some of the nastier skirmishes in the art world during the past decade. We are very pleased to have an artist of his caliber at the Crapo Gallery."

Paul Georges was born in Portland, Oregon in 1923. He studied at the University of Oregon, the prestigious Hans Hofman School in New York City and in Paris at the Aetlier of Twentieth Century master Fernand Leger. Mr. Georges has taught at the University of Colorado, Dartmouth College, the Yale University School of Art and Architecture and Brandeis University. His work is in the collection of the Longview Foundation, the Newark Museum of Art, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, the Museum of Modern Art and the Whitney Museum of Art. A contributor to Art News, his awards include a Longview Foundation Fellowship, a Hallmark Purchase Award and the Carol Beck Gold Medal from the Pennsylvania

Engineers' Week

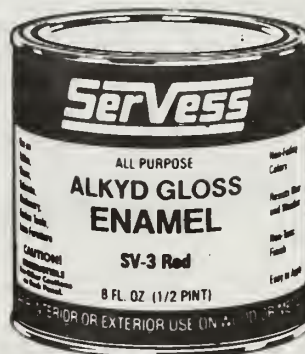

Preparation for Engineers' Week activities were the focus of the recent business meeting of the Southeastern Chapter of the Massachusetts Society of Professional Engineers. According to Chapter President Mr. Jack W. Dean, P.E., "Last year's activities resulted in the S.E. Chapter receiving an award for being the State's Most Active Chapter and an Honorable Mention on the National Level". This year's activities, according to Mr. Dean, will involve not only the Professional Engineer members, but will include the Student Chapter as well.

The Student Chapter, organized at Southeastern Massachusetts University, is the first Professional Engineering student chapter to be started in Massachusetts. According to Mr. Dean, the S.E. Chapter provides a link between engineering students and Professional Engineers. As part of the Chapter's preparation for Engineers' Week, the Student Chapter President Paul Disilets with Prof. Lenine M. Gonsalves, P.E., and Mr. H. Earl Lantery, P.E. attended the Winter meeting of the National Society of Professional Engineers in Fort Worth, Texas.

According to Mr. Dean, the Engineers' Week activities will be only the beginning of this year's activities. New members and engineers interested in attending the Chapter's activities are always welcome. Further information regarding the program of activities can be obtained from Mr. Dean at Thompson Consultants, Inc., Marion, telephone 748-2620.

Money Management

MONEY - FROM MASSACHUSETTS SOCIETY OF CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS, INC.
 WHO PAYS TAX ON SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS?

Social Security recipients filing 1985 federal income tax returns will be sorting through some complicated rules to figure out if their benefits are taxable. Traditionally, Social Security benefits were not taxed. But that changed in 1984, when, for the first time, approximately one of every 10 benefit recipients was required to pay some tax on his or her benefits.

That change caused a bit of confusion last year. In fact, about 10 percent of those who reported taxable Social Security benefits last year made a mistake on this calculation. According to the Massachusetts Society of CPAs, it helps if you grasp some of this tax law's fundamentals.

According to the rules, benefit recipients above a certain income level must pay some tax on benefits received. Those who relied on Social Security as their sole source of income will be exempt. In fact, people 65 or older with low incomes may not even have to file a 1985 tax return. If you are in that age group and single, you need not file if your gross income is below $4,470. A married couple 65 or older need not file a joint return if their gross income is less than $7,700. These figures do not include any Social Security benefits received, which are generally exempt from income tax at these income levels.

If your income exceeds these levels, however, some preliminary calculations will demonstrate if your Social Security benefits are to be taxed.

Because the rules on taxing Social Security benefits are relatively new and caused confusion among taxpayers, the IRS and the Social Security Administration are taking special care to explain them. For instance, the Social Security Administration will send you Form SSA-1099 to show you how much in benefits you received in 1985 and they will also send Notice 703, which explains the rules on taxing benefits. In addition, the IRS Form 1040 instructions explain the benefits taxation rules and you can get a worksheet to calculate your personal Social Security formula. But before going through the elaborate federal government publications, CPAs suggest some easy-to-follow alternative measures to determine if your benefits will be taxed.

Referring to a Form 1040, write down your "tentative" adjusted gross income -- that's adjusted gross income without including Social Security benefits. Add to it one half of your 1985 Social Security benefits plus any income you received from tax-exempt securities, such as municipal bonds. If the total is more than $25,000 for a single, or $32,000 for joint filers, part of your benefits will be taxed, according to the CPAs. In this case, by the way, you must file by using the Form 1040, the long form.

The amount of your benefits that will be taxed is either (1) half the amount over the $25,000 or $32,000 floor, whichever applies to you, or (2) half of your 1985 Social Security benefits. Choose the lesser of the two and add it to your tentative adjusted gross income.

Here's an illustration of exactly how this tax can affect Social Security recipients. Let's say a couple has a tentative adjusted gross income of $28,000. They received $8,000 in Social Security benefits and earn $3,000 in interest income from municipal bonds. They must add to their $28,000 tentative adjusted gross income half of their benefits ($4,000) plus the $3,000 in interest income from the tax-exempt securities. Since the total of $35,000 is greater than the $32,000 floor that applies to joint filers, they must pay tax on either half their benefits or half the amount over the floor. In this case, since half the amount over the floor, $1,500, is less than half their $8,000 in benefits ($4,000), they will add the $1,500 to their taxable income.

If you still have questions concerning the new rules on taxation of Social Security benefits, CPAs note that the Form 1040 instructions include an entire section dealing with it. In addition, the IRS is about to release a publication (with greater detail) for senior citizens. Ask your local IRS office for Publication No. 915.

STYLING for MEN, WOMEN & CHILDREN

April 6th.

The goal of the Drama Exchange Program is to give children the opportunity to discover the drama traditions of another country while sharing with the new culture, the methods of work of an American children's theatre. This year, four participants will not only perform their original work but will attend lectures, workshops and performances of Britain's most prestigious cultural institutions.

The theatre has been invited by Britain's most famous drama school for children. The Windsor Theatre School, which specializes in teaching Shakespeare to children.

Children who wish to develop their dramatic skills and wish to be introduced to Shakespeare's greatest works through this rare opportunity may call the theatre at 224-4888 for a tour application. For further information about the tour's details you may call PBT's Executive Director Anne Joelle.

Priscilla Beach Theatre is a professional, non-profit school of drama which does not discriminate according to race, sex, age, religion or nationality.

at the Children's Museum in Dartmouth under the guidance of Museum Weaver-in-Residence Mary Ellen Nochimow of Womihcon's Weaving Workshop, specializing in children's textile classes, rag weaving, basketry and fabric design. Four weekly morning and afternoon sessions will be held Wednesday mornings from 9-11 and Wednesday afternoons from 12:45 to 2:45 at the museum. There will be some flexibility in scheduling to accommodate students' needs and schedules. The cost is $25. and includes instruction and supplies. Each session is limited to six children to insure special attention.

Kinderweave will focus on rag weaving for children using cardboard and frame looms. Weaving is fun for small children as it enables them to develop visual awareness and to stimulate creative imagination.
